SYNOPSIS

Chef Jenna Marie Abbott has incredible news! Her grandmother, Genevieve Abbot, just left her only grandchild millions of dollars! But her inheritance comes with one galling stipulation: Jenna must use the money to finish launching and successfully run a Christian online streaming platform. Jenna also inherits the rag-tag team of the Streaming Heaven network who are determined to help her meet Jesus and come to terms with the skeletons in her own closet. Her hesitancy to embrace a new career field to earn the inheritance is magnified by her distrust of all religion.
